

Academic Writing Day with SACC

29th September, 2016

Dear colleagues,

Samara Academic Consultancy Center (SACC) invites both mature writers and beginners to Academic writing workshops:

Time	Subject	Room
14:30-15:00	Samara Academic Consultancy Center: Pooling a Year Experience (S. Menshenina, S. Agrikova) This presentation will cover work results and describe future plans and perspectives of the Center. We will explain how we serve the university community: assist writing for publication in English and participation in international projects. The presentation is intended for those who want to write and publish successfully in English	Room 209 Building 3a
15:00-16:00	Academic Writing Tips from Overseas Graduate School (E. Narozhnaya) This 45-minute presentation will explore new elements of the academic writing style in English. Examples include the use of voice, the first person, and sentence structure. It will provide suggestions on how to make your writing more effective and accessible to the public. The talk is intended for academic writing instructors and advanced English students interested in improving their writing style
